The play "In Flum Vag" given at the town hall in the evening, drew a large crowd, the hall being packed to the doors. The play was repeated at Mexico Grange Hall, Saturday evening.

RUMFORD CENTER

Mrs. Granville T. Thurston

The death of Mrs. Granville T. Thurston, for over 70 years a resident of Rumford, occurred at 10 o'clock, Thursday morning, at her home here, where she had resided for over half a century.

Mrs. Thurston had been in failing health for over two months and had sought treatment at a Portland hospital, returning home seven weeks ago.

The deceased, formerly Ada E. Lufkin, was born in North Rumford on April 23, 1855, the eldest of five children of Addison and Ephraim Bartlett. She attended rural schools and on December 4, 1875, was united in marriage with Granville T. Thurston at Newry. The couple spent the first year of their married life in Leeds, returning to Rumford to make their home. Mrs. Thurston was a charter member of the Rumford Center Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home, when members of their family and relatives were present to honor them.

Surviving are her husband, Granville T. Thurston, aged 79; three children, Carl G. Thurston, of Prospect Avenue; Mrs. Charles Demeritt of Kerr street; and Herman T. Thurston, who resides at the old homestead, Rumford Center, nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild; also three brothers, Ed Lufkin of West Peru, Nelson Lufkin of Peru, and Art Lufkin of Carroll, N. There are many ovis in the swamp near E. K. Shedd's, which are disturbing at night with their constant inquisitive calling of "who are you". We hope they migrate soon, but believe they winter here.

Swine are very scarce here, and everywhere. If you are lucky enough to get a pig, keep it.

Town Character—Name Him

And here a fine farmer appears,
Eloquent in his barn, he calls his peers,
He knows how to breed them,
And just how to feed them,
His conscience he saves,
When selling these calves
With the thought of having to weed them,
He will take several pairs,
And thus ribbon win a good share,
His motto: "Never do this by halves."

DENTIST'S METHOD BEST WAY TO CLEAN ARTIFICIAL TEETH

Referring to Artificial Teeth, an eminent dentist says he repeatedly urges his patients, who wear these dentures, to cleanse them thoroughly every day. The same care must be given removable bridges. Neglect will surely injure the plates and, since there is danger of bacterial formation, the mouth may become infected. Unpleasant breath always results from lack of care or improper methods of cleaning. Flit is a tube is guaranteed to antiseptically cleanse and deodorize these plates with artificial teeth also bridges. Dentists who use it endorse it as the most thorough cleansing paste. A special plate brush always should be used. Flit is a tube. Brush is wonderfully effective and economical. Your druggist should supply you, but if he cannot, write to Dr. J. C. Flit Laboratories, 27 Free St. Portland, Maine and receive a liberal free sample. (Adv)
